

POSTERGASM

THE CALVINBALL
POSTER PACK

The Mission: Put up posters, flyers, and stickers in public places. Leave pamphlets and other literature in places where people will find them or see them. Upload them to flickr.com and tag them "POSTERGASM"

The Objective: Modify your environment. Reclaim public spaces. Surprise people out of their daily rut. Encourage creative thought.

The theme for this pack is

- imposing / removing rules in public spaces
- creating the illusion (or reality!) that the reader is in the middle of a game

Personal

PLANETARY Pi, which I discovered, is 61. It's a Time-Energy relationship existing between sun and inner planets and I use it in arriving at many facts unknown to science. For example, multiply nude earth's circumference 24,902.20656 by 61 and you get the distance of moon's orbit around the earth. This is slightly less than actual distance because we have not yet considered earth's atmosphere. So be it. Christopher Garth, Evanston.

NEW GAME

All the winners from the last game will start off knowing some of the rules.

If you don't know the rules yet, look around and do your best to figure them out.

Can you figure out who is playing and who is a bystander?

Wow!
